Good afternoon! I put this together quickly and provided a brief description of the issue along with the status. Most are ongoing issues where there will be something that comes up now and again, or that is a continuous matter (e.g. rule-making).

I'm checking to confirm that I didn't leave anything off (something that's been dormant for the last few months), and if I come across anything, I'll supplement this list.

One thing you and I discussed was identifying where there were jurisdictional issues that may be outstanding and where we may need additional reference.

For now (and this may change on some of the newer issues), I believe through our discussions, we've already identified all areas where there may be additional jurisdictional background. As you review this list, however, if you have additional thoughts regarding who may have previously worked on an issue (if I didn't name them already), then it would be helpful to get that type of feedback as well.

I'm open to all comments, questions and/or concerns.

Thanks Paul, I look forward to our discussion (likely Monday). Regards - Kim V.

Subject: Request for additional Time on Work List

Hi Paul – just thinking about our conversation from yesterday, it's going to take me a little longer than noon tomorrow to provide a list with a brief synopsis. I started to draft the list (of topics alone) and between my other meeting requirements, I would like to get this to you by COB on Thursday if that would work. Let me know if you need to have this before Thursday and we can discuss.

Thanks! – Kim V.
